We can learn from how Adam (as) responded after he erred. Being able to admit your faults and to harbor guilt is a beautiful sign of your belief and dedication to Allah subhanahu wa ta'ala. We ask for his forgiveness and avoid repeating the same mistakes. This is the du'a Prophet Adam (as) recited after sinning in paradise.

Only when the end is shown do we realize the mistake in our judgment. Unfortunately, it's too late by then. This du'a asks Allah to protect us from being a victim to that fate.

Du'a of Prophet Suhaib (as). Prophet Suhaib (as) recited this du'a after facing heavy opposition from the eminent people of the city. They threatened to evict him from the city unless he fabricated a lie against Allah. His reply? The Qur'an mentions how this will be the type of du'a a believer would recite when they enter the Garden of Eden. They will praise Allah (swt) and thank him endlessly for being forgiving and appreciative. We are imperfect, we will do wrong and still Allah (swt) will forgive us and appreciate our efforts to do the little provision of deeds that we did in our lifetime. Little because we can never do enough to truly be deserving of the rewards in paradise. In this du'a it refer to Allah as Al-Ghafoor and Ash-Shakur two of His rightful names and attribute.

“Our Lord, and admit them to gardens of perpetual residence which You have promised them and whoever was righteous among their forefathers, their spouses and their offspring. Indeed, it is You who is the Exalted in Might, the Wise. And protect them from the evil consequences [of their deeds]. And he whom You protect from evil consequences that Day – You will have given him mercy. And that is the great attainment.”

Recommended use:

A du'a asking to unite the believers with their descendants in Jannah (i.e., to be reunited with your forefathers, spouses, and children.) This du'a also calls upon Allah (swt) using his rightful attributes of being Al-Aziz (the mighty one) and Al-Hakeem (the wise one). The du'a concludes by asking for protection on the day of judgment and asks to receive his mercy which would be the best of all gifts.

“Our Lord, forgive us and our brothers who preceded us in faith and put not in our hearts [any] resentment toward those who have believed.”

Recommended use:

A du'a which reflects the attitude we should have for our fellow Muslim brothers and sisters. Those who "preceded us in faith" would refer to those who embraced Islam before the emigration from Makkah to Yathrib. Those who came after would be everyone who accepted Islam after the migration. This du'a is a reminder that we are one Ummah and we should not harbor resentment or hate towards one another. We must continue with love in our hearts for our community and to resist being envious towards any good Allah (swt) may have bestowed on another person.

A du'a of praise using two of Allah's rightful names and attributes. The first being Ar-Ra'uf meaning the benign one, the one who is extremely kind and compassionate. The second being Ar-Raheem meaning the most merciful, the one who acts with extreme kindness, bestowing mercy upon his creations.

We must show complete trust and reliance in Allah (swt) for all matters. This du'a is one that affirms that we have relied on Him alone. Furthermore, it is also a prayer of remembrance that this life is only temporary. The final destination is when we return to Allah (swt).

Du'a of Prophet Ibrahim (as).

This is a du'a Prophet Ibrahim (as) recited asking to make the believers victorious over the disbelievers. To not make us “objects of torment” meaning if the disbelievers won, they would falsely assume what they followed was correct. They would question how Allah (swt) would allow his believers to lose. The du'a then continues referring to Allah (swt) as azeezul hakeem meaning the most powerful and wise.

Recommended use:

Another beautiful du'a asking for Jannah. We learn in Surah Al-Hadid verse 12 how on the day of judgment the believing men and women will have a light illuminating from their right hands. They will be told "a good tiding for you today." The hypocrites will find themselves stumbling in darkness. This du'a asks Allah (swt) to perfect or to complete our light on that day and to forgive us our sins. Indeed, Allah (swt) is competent and powerful over all things.
